

WAGAMAN NEWS

an update from Benjamin & Kelly Wagaman

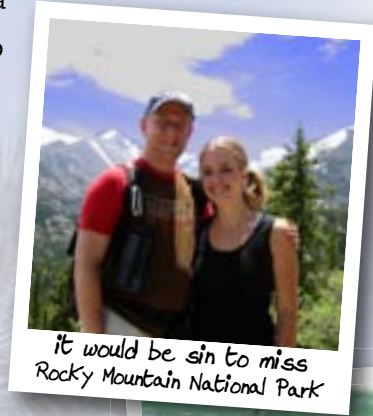

September 8, 2005

Summer in the Rockies seminary in the sky

After six weeks in a dorm room at Colorado State University, we were filled to the brim with theological training. Our favorite class was the Old Testament Survey. Richard Pratt taught us the underlying theme of the Bible is "The Kingdom of God." Every day we walked back from our two hour lecture discussing the implications of what we heard.

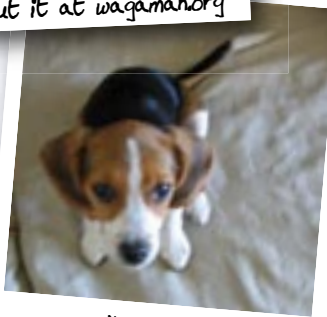

We also took a class called the "Bible Track" where we learned how to interpret and then communicate a passage from the Bible. The first half was an in depth study of the different genres in the Bible: for instance poetry, prophecy, parable, narrative, etc... Kelly wrote an 8-page paper on The Tower of Babel and I wrote one on The Parable of the Prodigal Son. The next two-weeks we worked on effectively communicating this passage to address the fallen condition of a particular audience. The personal attention and academic growth of these classes was immeasurable.

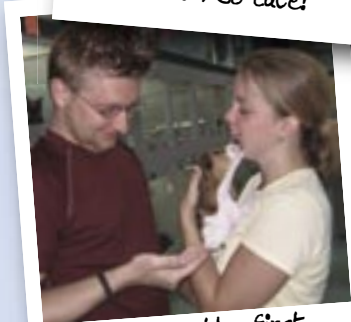

it would be sin to miss Rocky Mountain National Park

daddy made a video of me and put it at wagaman.org

arent I so cute!

this was the first time I Kissed mommy

Pippin-dedo-Dog Pippin-de-day my, oh my, what a playful puppy

Hi, my name is Pippin! I'm a 15-week old beagle. Ben and Kelly brought me home from Petland in Westerville five weeks ago. I did a lot of traveling with my new family. First

I went from Ohio to Pennsylvania to help my parents pack their stuff and play with wrapping paper. There were so many fun places to pee there. I love finding new toys lying on the floor and dragging them to new places. I don't understand why mom and dad say that word "no" to me. I think they just want to play with me.

I was having a hard time sleeping until we made our way down to Florida. Wow, that trip was long! I got to ride in the passenger seat of daddy's Subaru. It was fun. I especially liked singing for hours on end. Sometimes we would get to hot places and I would get sleepy. Then we finally got there to the land of Alligators and Hurricanes.

I love my new home. I get to go outside a lot because I'm being house trained. When daddy takes me outside we go down 20 stairs. There are so many other dogs at my new home. Every day I get to play with them and I like to wag my tail fast when people are nearby. I think I am an extravert.

Sometimes Mommy and Daddy put me in my den to play with my rawhide bone while they go to the pool or shopping across the street. They just started work at the office last week, so I just sleep all day. Rrrrrrh. Rrrrh.

Yours in Christ,

Ben & Kelly

SWEET BENEFITS

- 1) palm trees
- 2) free Disney passes
- 3) ocean on every side
- 4) 70° during the winter
- 5) we met and fell in love here 3 yrs ago
- 6) after 5PM we're done
- 7) free color printing
- 8) hurricane season
- 9) huge mall right across the street
- 10) pool open year-round

A SLICE OF FLORIDA